新北市立新店高中 109 學年度第一學期第二次段考三年級
英文科試題

Exam Coverage: (1) Sanmin B5 U5, U7 +U6 Vocabulary, Phrases and Patterns
(2) Ivy Nov. 2020
(3) Translation by Topics U21 ~U24

第壹部分：選擇題（占 72 分）
一、詞彙題（占 16 分）

1. After trying on the shoes for fun, I had an _____ urge to buy them right away.
(A) underlying (B) astonishing (C) effective (D) irresistible
2. Brian was diagnosed with an infectious disease and had to be _____ for several days.
(A) blocked (B) contaminated (C) isolated (D) registered
3. The latest issue of the fashion magazine featured an _____ with Shawn Mendes, in which he shared his thoughts about music and life.
(A) occasion (B) interview (C) expense (D) assignment
4. When Nancy feels nervous or uneasy, she _____ bites her fingernails; she isn't aware of this weird habit herself.
(A) remarkably (B) sincerely (C) unconsciously (D) readily
5. The long drought and civil war caused a food _____ in this country. Hundreds of thousands of people starved to death.
(A) shortage (B) collapse (C) revolution (D) belonging
6. The general launched an _____ to the country's capital, but he was outwitted and lost most of his soldiers.
(A) assault (B) embrace (C) interference (D) observation
7. The government _____ stressed the importance of maintaining social distance during the pandemic.
(A) eventually (B) wearily (C) repeatedly (D) inevitably
8. The company _____ 200 teenagers and found that social media is crucial in many aspects of their lives.
(A) surveyed (B) captured (C) detached (D) purchased
9. The machine is _____ so please ask the professional to help you when using it the first time.
(A) consistent (B) sophisticated (C) authentic (D) inflatable
10. Ron is an optimistic and outgoing person while his twin sister, Tina, is the exact _____. She is very shy and quiet.
(A) exile (B) annoyance (C) imperfection (D) opposite
11. The manager _____ the salespeople loudly in public for failing to hit the sales target that he had set for them.
(A) implied (B) mourned (C) scolded (D) regulated

12. Oliver considers it the most _____ moment in his life that his brain went totally blank onstage in the speech contest.
(A) emphatical (B) urgent (C) passive (D) shameful
13. The drug, which is not recommended for pregnant women, must be taken under the _____ of a doctor.
(A) compassion (B) supervision (C) motivation (D) transformation
14. Jason feels frustrated whenever his parents _____ his opinions just because he is a teenager.
(A) broaden (B) implement (C) assemble (D) discount
15. Taoyuan International Airport has _____ the screening of travelers for fear that Covid-19 virus would enter Taiwan.
(A) stepped up (B) ridden out (C) set off (D) come across
16. _____ historical accuracy, Riley did detailed research on ancient Japanese customs before starting her novel.
(A) On the edge of (B) For the sake of (C) At a rate of (D) By the looks of

二、文法選擇（占 5 分）

17. _____ Steven did to fix the broken relationship, he knew he couldn't make up for his mistake.
(A) Even though (B) No matter what (C) As long as (D) Whether
18. _____ cheating on his wife, Ken had no choice but to confess to his affair.
(A) Caught (B) Catch (C) Catching (D) To catch
19. The old photo reminded me of the day _____ I attended my sister's graduation ceremony two years ago.
(A) where (B) which (C) what (D) when
20. Long time no see, Jimmy! It is time that we _____ a reunion party.
(A) have (B) will have (C) had (D) having
21. Sometimes, bullying is an Internet event, _____ when someone puts mean words about you on Facebook.
(A) such (B) so (C) as (D) as if

三、綜合測驗（占 15 分）

Cyberbullying, whose victims are mostly teenagers, is not a new type of violence. More than a decade ago, David Knight, a high school student back then, __22__ to cyberbullying every time he logged onto the Internet. Someone had set up a website, __23__ led to easy access to posting hateful comments about David. He was constantly __24__ and insulted by his fellow students. Abusive remarks ranged from calling him gay to threatening to beat him up. __25__ by cyberbullying, David began to exclude himself from social life. Finally, he decided to turn to his parents for help. After a discussion with David, the Knights reported it to the police, telling them that the site was going too far and __26__ they should ban the use of the site. However, the Yahoo-hosted site remained active. It was only when the Knight family threatened to take legal action that Yahoo agreed to take down the website.

22. (A) has exposed	(B) was exposed	(C) exposed	(D) exposing
23. (A) which	(B) what	(C) where	(D) this
24. (A) soothed	(B) discarded	(C) taunted	(D) highlighted
25. (A) Plagued	(B) Replaced	(C) Encountered	(D) United
26. (A) anymore	(B) somehow	(C) thereby	(D) actually

Dr. Martin Luther King is remembered not only as a great civil rights leader but also as a great speaker. __27__ that blacks would be free of discrimination from the whites, he made the world famous speech, "I Have a Dream." Spurred by it, many blacks took action to fight for racial __28__ and end segregation. But what's the secret behind the success of the speech?

What good speakers often use is imagery. In the "I Have a Dream" speech, for example, freedom and justice become the "__29__" in contrast to the "desert" state of Mississippi. __30__ images include "manacles" and "chains," which stand for segregation and discrimination respectively. It is __31__ that the speech is rich in images, which helps create deep impression and then make a persuasive speech.

27. (A) Hoping	(B) Hoped	(C) To hope	(D) To hoping
28. (A) fragility	(B) morality	(C) identity	(D) equality
29. (A) daybreak	(B) oasis	(C) scar	(D) decree
30. (A) Another	(B) The other	(C) Other	(D) Others
31. (A) prominent	(B) evident	(C) literal	(D) symbolic

When handling glasses—whether the kind we wear to improve our vision or the kind we drink from—we are usually especially careful. __32__, everyone knows that any type of glass is fragile and breaks easily. We've all seen movies, TV programs, or cartoons __33__ a person is singing and the glass around them starts breaking, but is this really possible in reality?

The answer is positive. In the Discovery program called MythBusters, a singer, Jaime Vendera, tried to break a wine glass with his voice. On his 12th __34__, he succeeded, proving that it can be done. Since all objects have what physicists call a natural frequency, a piece of glass can be shattered by a booming sound if the volume is high enough. Also, all objects have flaws. __35__ we cannot see them, glasses have tiny cracks in them. These __36__ grow when a glass is stressed.

A powerful sound wave may cause such cracks to worsen and end up smashing it to pieces. However, the chances are quite high that your home glassware is safe—unless you drop it!

32. (A) As a matter of fact	(B) In contrast	(C) On the other hand	(D) After all
33. (A) which	(B) what	(C) where	(D) why
34. (A) attempt	(B) variety	(C) lecture	(D) prediction
35. (A) Once	(B) Though	(C) Unless	(D) As
36. (A) ingredients	(B) features	(C) defects	(D) resources

四、文意選填（占 10 分）

In the past, there was something called the space race. During this time, after World War II, the United States and the Soviet Union were trying to __37__ the other to the moon. The latter, which is now known as Russia, became the first nation to send a man-made satellite to __38__ the Earth in 1957. That country also sent several __39__ to the moon and Venus. However, these vehicles did not have humans on board.

Those __40__ shocked the Americans. After that, the US began to focus on space exploration and created NASA, an agency __41__ for space programs and research. In July 1969, the United States' Apollo 11 mission successfully landed on the moon with humans on board, defeating the Russians in the space race.

Following five more landings on the moon in the 1970s, NASA turned its attention to purely scientific goals. Included in these technological __42__ is the desire to help people better understand the universe. One project that assists people in learning more about space is NASA's Eyes Visualization applications. These apps are __43__ to anyone around the planet. What's more, the apps make it free to __44__ NASA's scientific information.

With the apps, people can see some of the breakthroughs in space science. For example, the public can take a peek at far-away planets outside our solar system that could become __45__ for humans one day. Of course people would not be able to live on these planets until sometime in the __46__ future. Thus, with the help of NASA's Eyes program, those on Earth are just a click away from being a space explorer.

(A) orbit (B) access (C) habitable (D) responsible (E) beat
(AB) achievements (AC) distant (AD) aims (AE) available (BC) spacecraft

五、篇章測驗（占 10 分）

For most of her time, Queen Elizabeth II of the United Kingdom has had a special place in her heart for a small breed of dog known as the corgi. In 1933, when Elizabeth was still a child, her parents adopted two corgis named Dookie and Jane. __47__ In 1944, when Elizabeth turned 18, she received a new corgi named Susan as birthday gift. Susan was the first in a line of so-called royal corgis that would go on to survive for 14 generations!

While they lived at Buckingham Palace, the royal corgis had a privileged lifestyle. Each dog was given its own private basket to sleep in. __48__ Furthermore, they were located in a special room known as the Corgi Room.

The queen's corgis have made a number of public appearances over the years. __49__ in the skit, actor Danial Craig, playing the role of James Bond, arrives at Buckingham Palace to accompany the queen to the event. __50__ Finally, when he enters the queen's private quarters, one of the dogs "salutes" him by dramatically rolling over on the carpet.

In 2015, Queen Elizabeth decided that she would not continue to breed corgis. __51__ With her final corgis, Willow, passing away in 2018, the queen's 85-year history with corgis really came to an end.

(A) Probably the most famous was in a sketch produced for the opening ceremony of 2012 London Olympics.
(B) Both dogs died later, but she developed a great love for the breed.
(C) Walking through the palace, Bond passes two of the queen's corgis, which then follow him.
(D) She did not wish for any of the dogs to survive her.
(E) These baskets were raised up off the floor to prevent the dogs from getting cold.

六、閱讀測驗（占 16 分）

You're familiar with bubble wrap, right? Even if you haven't used it to ship something fragile, you've probably at least enjoyed popping the bubbles. This little joy is only one of the uses for the product. Interestingly enough, it was created for a purpose that it's not even used for.

In the 1950s, two engineers, Fielding and Chavannes, wanted to create a type of 3D wallpaper. They wanted to seal two sheets of plastic together, but what they ended up with was not what they hoped for. The finished product had lots of air pockets in it and wouldn't work as wallpaper. The creators then tried to find another use for their new material.

In the 1960s, Fielding and Chavannes gave their product the name "Bubble wrap." They tried to sell it to IBM as packaging material to protect the company's large, expensive computer systems. The bubble wrap kept the machines from getting damaged during shipping. Soon other businesses began using the material as well to protect their own goods.

That's not the end of the story for bubble wrap, though. There are many uses for the plastic material. It can be used to retain heat, such as around pipes or on windows in winter. It can be used to create a dotted pattern when painting a room. It can even be used as a tool for managing stress. If you thought popping the bubbles was just for fun, well guess again. The activity has been noted for being able to relieve stress. Some colleges have even set up stations for popping bubble wrap to help their students during exam weeks.

52. For what purpose did Fielding and Chavannes originally create bubble wrap?
(A) To wrap and ship expensive items.
(B) To create a novel kind of wallpaper.
(C) To enjoy the fun of popping the bubbles.
(D) To provide cushioning for fragile objects.

53. What did Fielding and Chavannes do with their failed invention?
(A) They tried to market it as a different product.
(B) They protected it from being hit or damaged.
(C) They improved it with two layers of plastic.
(D) They recycled it to decorate people's houses.

54. According to the passage, why do some colleges set up stations for popping bubble wrap?

(A) To study the science behind it.

(B) To recycle used plastic materials.

(C) To help relieve students' stress.

(D) To keep students warm in winter.

55. Which of the following ways people making use of bubble wrap is NOT mentioned in the passage?

(A) Willy attached bubble wrap paper to windows as a barrier for heat loss.

(B) Little Susie was bored, so she started popping bubble wrap simply for fun.

(C) Stanley bought his wife a glass vase and wrapped it in bubble wrap.

(D) Mr. Stone stuffed bubble wrap inside pipes to prevent water leaks.

The first time I remember seeing a film and wanting to be transported to its locations was The Lord of the Rings. After the film series, New Zealand effectively used its stunning natural environments to brand itself. The country's tourism campaigns have generated a 50% increase since the first film was released.

This kind of tourism resulting from film and television has been called "screen tourism." However, they are not the first cultural products to inspire people to travel to particular locations. Books also served this purpose in the past, but there is an important difference between tourism inspired by books and by screen. Compared with the visual medium, the connection from words is not as strong. In fact, there is something magical about watching stories play out and then stepping foot in that same location. The feeling is hard to describe, but I'll never forget the ebullience I experienced when I walked through the grassy walls of Gandalf's cutting, which I had seen at cinema in The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring.

On the other hand, when you see a place you have visited show up in a movie, it adds another layer of depth to the viewing experience. Instead of simply seeing what the director has chosen to show you, you might also think of an experience you had at that location. For many people, that is a rare occurrence; they do not live in places where film and television crews tend to flock.

Outside the common desires to achieve a basic standard of living, we all find fulfillment in different ways, and it is worth recognizing that travel and media can work together to create a virtuous cycle of positive fulfillment. Some people may travel first and then see the places they have visited in the media; while others will use media to inspire their own travel. Because they result in positive experiences, both should be cherished as ways we can find more joy throughout our lives and our travels.

56. According to the passage, which of the following statements is true?

(A) Books used to inspire readers to go traveling but have been overpassed by screen.

(B) New Zealand is a successful example of protecting their spectacular environment.

(C) It takes a great fortune to promote tourism to movie directors and television crews.

(D) Visiting a place once seen in a film can bring more pleasure than a normal journey.

57. Which of the following is closest in meaning to the word "ebullience" in the second paragraph?

(A) Bravery. (B) Anxiety. (C) Excitement. (D) Harmony.

58. What is the third paragraph mainly about?

(A) Positive influences traveling has on normal people.

(B) Some rare memories created by special experience.

(C) Inspiration for people to combine traveling with life.

(D) The other kind of pleasure related to screen tourism.

59. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage?

(A) People expect to live in spectacular places where directors would choose to shoot movies.

(B) Traveling to a dream place in a movie will leave people some unforgettable life experience.

(C) While some enjoy appreciating magnificent views in movies, others go traveling personally.

(D) More and more countries welcome movie-shooting in order to boost their tourism industry.

第貳部分：非選擇題（占 28 分）

一、字彙填空（占 10 分）

60. The roots of a newly-planted tree are s_____w, while those of older trees grow deeper into the soil.

61. After applying for the post, Jamie started waiting in eager a_____n for an interview call.

62. Columbus's journey in 1492 was a h_____c event that led Europeans to explore Americas.

63. It is taken for granted that people in a society of l_____y have freedom of choice.

64. Jessica u_____red a cry of pain as soon as her finger got burned by the hot pan.

65. Besides breaking her bones, the accident also caused mental t_____a that would keep Maggie afraid of taking car rides.

66. The car came to a sudden h_____t before it was just about to hit a boy running across the street.

67. Abusing stray animals and making it a video to be shared online is a v_____s act of cruelty.

68. David i_____ted most of his money in Bitcoins; however, he lost every penny overnight.

69. With h_____y getting high in the summer, people sweat a lot and feel sticky.

二、片語填空（占 10 分）

*做實驗的時候我們應該要記得安全最重要。

When doing an experiment, we should _____70_____ _____71_____ _____72_____ that safety is of the utmost importance.

*兩家原本互為競爭對手的公司現在宣布要聯手合作。

The two companies who used to be rivals now announce to _____73_____ _____74_____ _____75_____ each other.

*Lisa 在黑咖啡裡加了些糖以平衡苦味。

Lisa added some sugar to her black coffee to ____76_____ _____77_____ the bitterness.

*這些背包客忘了預先訂旅館，結果無處可去。

These backpackers forgot to make hotel reservations in advance, so they _____78_____ _____79_____ having nowhere to stay.

三、翻譯（占 8 分）

80. 不管發生甚麼事，我相信沒有任何事物比崇高的道德標準更有價值。(4%)

81. 我的叔叔山姆是如此小氣以至於他是最不可能捐錢給慈善團體的人。(4%)

選擇題 72%

詞彙(1-5) D C B C A (6-10) A C A B D (11-16) C D B D A、B

文法選擇 (17-21) B A D C C

綜合測驗 (22-26) B A C A C (27-31) A D B C B (32-36) D C A B C

文意選填 (37-41) E A BD AB D (42-46) BC B AD C AC

篇章測驗 (47-51) B E A C D

閱讀測驗 (52-55) B A C D (56-59) D C D B

非選擇題 28%

一、字彙填空 10% (1% each)

60. shallow	61. anticipation	62. historic	63. liberty
64. uttered	65. trauma	66. halt	67. vicious
68. invested	69. humidity

二、片語填空: 請注意時態 10% (1% each)

70. bear/keep 71. in 72. mind

73. join 74. hands (沒 S 全錯) 75. with

76. balance 77. out

78. wound/ended 79. up

VII. 翻譯 8% (4% each)

80. 不管發生甚麼事，我相信沒有任何事物比崇高的道德標準更有價值。

No matter what happens, / I believe no other things are /more valuable than /noble moral standards

81. 我的叔叔山姆是如此小氣以至於他是最不可能捐錢給慈善團體的人。

My uncle Sam is so stingy that/ he is the last person /to make a / charitable donation. (to donate money/ to charity.)